What is a true identity? How can a person express and establish his/her own identity? The possibilities to this question are endless. One of the most common ways to identify someone's identity is by their style of dress.

The jocks and jockettes were often seen in their casual sweatsuits, while the preppies walked around with turned up collars and topsiders on their feet. Aside from the jocks and the preppies, the new wavers and the mods were seen throughout the hallways of San Rafael High School. With their speical haircuts and clothes they certainly made a unique crowd.

It was very hard to go around school without seeing at least twenty skateboards. Skateboarding became a very popular sport during the past year.

This year was a time for students to express themselves in new and different ways. It's been a year we'll never forget.

- Come on guys, SMILE¹⁰—David Cater and Mike Fedoroff.
- Dressed up for beach day, Dan Levin dreams of sunny Hawaii
- Showing her school spirit, Kimbi Fye leads the crowd with a bulldog cheet.

- For the last time Adrian, I can't play with your hand in my way!"-Victor Escobedo and Adrian Gunerrez.

Throughout the year the students accomplished many difficult goals by working together. From the classroom to the playing field, the students have learned to combine their ideas and come out with a good end product.

In the classroom students were found helping each other on projects or even daily homework. The teachers were always willing to help and work with students who needed extra assistance.

Athletics played a big part in teamwork. Players supported each other in times of defeat and partied with each other in times of victory.

Another aspect of working together was spirit. The students were involved with school spirit. The songleaders, cheer leaders, flag girls, baton twirlers, and mascots spent endless hours practicing and perfecting their techniques to inspire the crowd at the football games.

Clubs spent many lunch periods and numerous hours after school discussing and planning future activities. Club members learned to cooperate and work efficiently while still having fun-

While at school we see each other having fun in many ways. Some people talk with friends or maybe joke about their teachers. Others participate in sports and club activities. There are rallies and spirit days.

At break time you can find people playing hackysack or hanging out by their cars. During lunch time some people play video games across the street at Pinky's or buy a frozen yogurt at Rafael Yogurt.

Not all fun is found at school. After school and on weekends visiting department stores becomes a popular sport for the fashion conscious student and becomes a way to spend free time. Some people put on parties, go to concerts, or sail on the bay. On warm days you can find students at the nearby beach cooling off or just relaxing and catching some tays.

Every San Rafaelite has their own individual way of having fun. This is one of the reasons that it is interesting and exciting to be part of San Rafael High.

Easing Up

In the last year of High School many seniors took a long desired break from studying and took more of an interest in other things. With all their competency tests, SATs, and ACTs behind them, they could lessen what has been a rough workload the past three years. Seniors usually fuled their schedules with non-academic classes, aithough they sometimes still found themselves cramming for finals.

Seniors were the masterminds of procrastination always finding a reason to "do it some other time". This is not to say that all seniors put things off but when for the first time in four years, a person could actually afford to do so, they did

Shadze Craze

From Vaumets to Ray Bans, whatever the name was, everyone had a pair. Sunglasses were worn at all times of the day, including before school break, lunch, and after school. The purpose of these glasses was not only to keep unwanted rays of sunlight out, but to establish one's personality.

Ray Bans were worn mostly by freshmen and sophomores to suit their "mod" style of dress. Vaurnets, as usual, dominated the entire campus as the most worn type of sunglasses. They were worn by all the classes. There were some students who did not participate in the 'Shadzi Craze' at all

Most brands of sunglasses came in a variety of colors ranging from black to red. Styles varied from "cat-eyes" to glasses that folded up to the size of one lense.

One factor that kept this a hard fashion to statistical with was the price. Depending on the style Vaurnets ran from $50-$100. The cost of Ray Bans was about $45

San Rafae, High School completed another very successful year in 1986, overcoming obstacles that it had faced for years. In 1888 when the school opened, there was but one building with a graduating class of tive. Today the number of graduates has risen to over the and the sechas expanded to several buildings.

One of the toughest battles San Rafael High faced in the past four years was the consolidation of San Rafael High School and Terra Linda High School Just recently at 1953 this proviet was temporarie, so led Because neither school was closed the school will be around for its 100 year amoversary in 1958.

Senioritis

Senior year came a lot faster than one could guess. The last year at school differs for each person. For some it was the final chance to fill college applications and decide which way their lives would go. For others, it was a year of relaxing and enjoying the life of a senior

Just like all the other classes, semors were labeled. But the label they received was more like an attitude, a way of life, that developed to an extreme from September to June. This label, the attitude of semors, could be described as SENIORITIS. This could be noticed in semors as early as the first day of school. They were the ones who said, "Hey, it's only the first day of school. We don't do anything anyway, so let's go to the beach!" And they did it. This was semor year. The ability to be chronically late to classes only down the hall from each other. The best excuse one could give was "I don't know!". The inability to rise in the morning without a strong cup of Mrs. Olsen's favorite was common Early day senior classes could always be found by the aroma of coffee coming from the classroom.

Seniors were also plagued by excessive relaxation. This could strike at any time. In the middle of a test in Government or English, an overwhelming desire to just put one s head down and sleep struck. This may have happened in the earlier three years, but the difference was that the idea didn't seem so off the wall and they did it

Another aspect of senioritis was the lack of solid classes on their schedules. A senior's schedule resembled a camp activity sheet more than a list of classes, two T.A. classes, an office aid class, and a psychology class where everyone Om'd out all period.

Senior year as a whole crept up on us a lot faster than we expected but left us with memories that will last us a lifetime

Individuality

San Rafael High School has always seen many different types of people, styles, and attitudes. There were the basic "jocks", "mods", "new wavers", personal styles and even a few "preppies" scattered here and there People held their own attitudes and view points along with their styles. These many sided students were openly accepted at SRHS. It has a ways been a school of diversity, in personal ties, styles, in otherwise.

The Ones to W•A•T•C•H

People

The People of San Rafael came in all shapes and sizes. There was no way to classify those who walked through the halls of S.R.H.S. Each person fit into his own niche by way of dress hairstyle, likes in music, sports, I.Q., or nicome. One way to identify all who attended S.R. was by classes.

The Junior class was fairly easy to recognize. They were the ones who had grown in size and mind. They were far more intellectually mature and capable of taking on responsibility. They were the ones who were starting to take a closer look at their futures. They were the seniors of tomorrow. They were the class of 1987.

As for sophomores, the previous years freshmen, they were very conservative and a much closer class. They were the ones awaiting the keys to the cat. They also real zed that in order to accomplish their goals, they couldn't always save schoolwork for the last moment. The Centennial Class of 1988 looked toward a bright future.

The freshmen's year was filled with exciting and sometimes frightening and new experiences. Starting a new school and meeting new people wasn't always easy. No matter what any upper classmen said, everyone went through freshmen year once maybe twice

The most important year in high school is the junior year. This is a time when students real. have to put all of their efforts and time into their schoolwork

By that time many of the juniors have matured a lot from their sophomore year. They realize that they only have one more year to go before they are off to college

Recognizing the new responsibilities that are ahead for them, the juniors set high goals in order to accomplish the needed skills for the future

On Their Way

Last year was no exception to each class being labeled. The seniors, as always, received SEN-IORITIS. The freshmen were lost in the GAR-BAGE. The juniors were faced with one more year and then graduation caps. Among all this confusion, what happened to the sophomores? They were no longer labeled with freshmenitis, but the immenence of graduation was not upon them. So what were they? Skateboarders?, which was what many people saw, but not a fair representation of the class. As ninth graders, they were frightened, terrorized by upperclassmen and rarely spoken to. The glory of juniorhood (pre-senior) seemed years away. So where were they in the scheme of things? Not wild or scared, or on the loose, but they were in a period of transition. This year was the year people tried to find out who they were, who their friends were, and maybe what they would do with their lives

By the time almost two years were complete one no longer had to stop and think, was this the right period? The area and combination of the hail and P.F. locks were finally locked in their memories. The classes in the school no longer seemed like a metropolis dropped in their laps briefly hellos were exchanged in the halls be tween casual, everyday acquaintances, and may be even a nice teacher or two. The area once scoped on during break was down pat and lunchtime activities were on a regular pattern.

The second year brought with it comfort, searching, hopefullness and maybe, even a place in the overall scheme of things. An ong wild loose and scared, could they have been finally on their way?

Student

The Life of a student usually begins with the morning rush. The rush to the shower the rush to school and the rush to the first class. However the student chose to get to school they always, or at least most of the time, made it before the tardy bell

Throughout the week students ran into all sorts of obstacles to overcome. Whether it was homework or a test in all their classes on one day. There was always one thing that helped the students tough out the week, that was Friday. Friday meant the beginning of the weekend. The weekend meant Fun' Fun meant.

The school always had some sort of activity planned whether it was a rally, or a game, a dance, the Cavalcade, or the spring musical Students always came out in full spirit to see their school perform

Spirit Soars

Spirit at San Rafael High School greater in proved this year. Whether from the stands of the track, the sounds of enthusiasm could be heard. Being a cheerleader meant involving the crowd. The main purpose of cheer eading was to spread spirit throughout the school. This years, spirit groups encountered many changes. But through it all, they remained spirited.

The basketball spirit leaders of 1985-85 provided source of enthusiasm as well as spirit for the team and crowd alike Performing at rallies and games the cheerleaders not only inspired the crowd and boosed the morale of the school, but most important energized the team. Try outs were held prior to the season and a select few were chosen. Due to a lact of students trying out for J.V. Yell, only 6 girls we chosen. The Varsity and Frosh squads included girls a piece who were required to maintain a certa G.P.A. and follow standards set to represe S.R.H.S. I had let a friend borrow a pencil so he could do the assignment. We were supposed to write on American heroes. I wrote it on the Brady Bunch

Five minutes before the period would be over, my friend said 'Hey Dude' I looked over and he threw me the pencil. I raised my hand as if to catch it. The next thing I saw was blood and a pencil embedded into my hand standing perpen-

Mrs. Horton looked at me I was white as a sheet and blood was everywhere. I must have lost at least two pints of blood. (The pencil was still standing, but I wasn't, I was Iv ng on the ground. Mrs. Horton spoke those dreaded words. 'Well I can't let you leave until a parent or guardian can give permission for you to leave campus.

In a weak voice I asked, Can I use the phone. Sure I she said with a smile and handed me the phone. The first thing I did was call my mom soffice. My fingers shook as I dialed her numbe with the pencil in my way. The phone rang twice before a voice answered, Helio, Soicide Prevertion Center, please Hold. I'm dying and they put me on hold. I couldn't believe it! After a few minutes the voice came on again. Hello, Can I help you? "Yes is, my mother's name; there?" I asked. I'm no she isn't. She doesn't work to day, The voice said. Oh Thank You

Well my life was just great. So then I called home hoping Mom would be there. I let the phone ring seven times, no answer I called my Dad who was out to lunch. I wasn't going to call my grandparents, they would probably have panacked. I thought a while. There was no one could call. THE CAMPE

The Cavarcade is an annual event which takes place each year in December. During this occasion students and teachers combine their talents to produce a show. This year it lasted approximately two hours. The performers put on a variety of different acts. They ranged from "The Hilbillies" to classical music and everything in between. Even teachers had spirit which made the audience cheer.

As usual Tom Truchan organized the whole thing and did a very good job. They made about $400 to $500

Victor Escobedo, Mike Farias and Tom Truchan were the Masters of Ceremony. They enchanted the audience with their funny jokes, and in the end Victor finally learned to count. All in all it was a learning experience which provided entertainment for all

Music played, people danced, couples had their photos taken. This was the scene of the 1985 Winter Formal Dance. The annual December dance was held in the gym as usual, accompanied by a D J and a professional photographer. The dance was open to all classes which made it a special event because it was unlike that of the Senior Ball and Junior Prom. This past year the gym was lightly decorated with silver stars and balloons. The atmosphere was festive and everyone had a good time. All in all, the Winter Formal of 1985 was a huge success that left everyone with fond memories of an exciting night.

One Night's Dream

I should be walking along the beach, after a min night supper in a spring meadow, and the wate should be lapping gently, at our feet, wetting you pant cuffs, and making my thin fabric dress cling to the outline of my legs

And our hands should be clasped together, maker our rhythm and energy beat as one. And we should turn and stop and look deep into each other's eye seeing thour souls. And as we kiss, feel the excit ment, and love pass through us like a bolt of lightning, leaving us breathless.

And I would be feeling all of these things, doing a of these things, if only you were here with me.

The Wanderer

Walking down the beach Alone at night The crashing of waves to teach The wanderer of fright One small tide Is enough to drown you out Lil your lungs with water Yours is a losing bout For the wanderer there alone Maybe he wants to die Who could have known His friends turned on him And caused the wanderer To take his last swim-And we all know the chances Of survival are very slim-If we took a voyage with his soul At the brink of death Feeling his body fall down the hole For who is to know of life after death The dying itself And taking your last breath Ask the wander er her could know For he is an apparition, A soul in hell Sent back to earth To die again and again Awaiting the rebuth Of wandering minds of men Who will also walk the beach And die again

OUTSTANDING AIR-BAND

On May 6th 1988, there were people walking like Egyptians, Going Back to Cali, protesting white lines, and some were just BAD. It was obviously the 1988 Centennial Air Band contest. The night started with an outstanding performance by the student teachers. This was enough to satisfy the crowd, but it was only the beginning. "RUN TFC" took us Back to Cali, and followed up with Star Treking- which were very funnny well done skits. "THREE JERKS AND A SQUIRT," followed with I Want Candy and the Super Bowl Shuffle, were a big hit Friday, "MALICIOUS ANKLEBITERS' gave everyone a run for their money with Soul Man, and Brickhouse. This all girl team was very organized, very creative aand well put together The question for this night was "CAN YOU DIG IT?" This band did a Bad-Celebration mix, and then came out with a mix for all tastes. "WET PAINT" did a song against drugs, White Lines, and If You Want My Body. Some of the best dancing was dsplayed in this well rehearsed act. "RUN TFC" took 3rd, "MALICIOUS ANKLEBITERS" recieved second, and "CAN YOU DIG IT?" conquered first place. "This was the best Air-Band ever." Ted Harding, co-host with Scott Stewart said. And everyone surely agreed.

Spring Turnabout Dance

The first annual Spring Turnabout was held this year on April 16th. Due to the success of the formal the Junior class is now one small step closer to a spectacular senior ball

The uniqueness of this formal is that the girls were expected to invite, and pay for, the guys. The idea was not an "original", but it was a first to San Rafael High It was a typical evening with forgotten corsages, late limos, run nylons, and people late for dinner reservations. Eventually whether plans ran smoothly or not, everyone made it to the dance. The decorated gym, filled with balloons, set a perfect scene for the assortment of music played by the D.J. The majority of the people burned off their dinner calonies by dancing the night away. The bathroom were always busy with a hurried hustle and bustle of guys and girls primping themselves for their pictures, and the flowery background gave a feeling of springtime.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The 1988 Varsity Baseball Team, coached by Mike Brusati, Jimmy McCarthy, and manager Keith Fraiser began the season with great hopes of an M.C.A.L. championship. Playing in a league with a very tight race in every game we had our opportunities, but the Bulldogs were plagued with bad luck. A lack of hitting, bad luck, and the loss of two key players proved to be enough to keep the Bulldogs out of the playoffs.

With an extremely well balanced line-up, the team had no superstars, each player had equal importance to the ballclub as a whole

Aaron Lofrano had an outstanding season behind the plate. Brian Wurz continued to make the play a 3rd. Sophomore Scott Sellers and Shane Grevin balanced the middle of the infield Jumor Greg Livengood anchored 1st base, while Pat B. Roberto Castillo, Joe Ford, Andy Capdarest and Brian Chaitard did the work in the outfield.

Other key players include Sean Lehman and Grey Truex. The pitching duties were split up fairly evenly between Dirk Fuller, Milt Hymas and Robert Castillo. While Dino Monterello and Gavin Moore platooned as designated hitter.

"Hopefully the players returning next year will learn from our mistakes this year, and play to their potential."

THE TOP DAWGS

Currently in third place, San Rafael's 1988 Varsity Softball has a league record of 13 wins and 3 losses. The team has survived some injuries and illnesses yet has performed well despite these setbacks.

Since the beginning of the Softball leasue the team has been either MCAL Champions or co-Champions forten out of the eleven years. The team has won the North Coast Section (NCS) Champship in 19981 and 1983

Overall, the team has a record of 201 wins and 4° losses. The credit for this outstanding record and list of acheivements goes to the dedicated players, who have worked hard over the years, and Joe Castronovo, who helped start the league program and has been the only San Rafael Coach since the program begun as a MC M. sport in 1978.

Since then the MCAL softball program has developed into a strong league. In past years no oone has matched up to SR's team strength. Recently Novato and San Marin have been very tough competition for the team We will most likely play these teams in the MCAL playoffs. Let's all hope the SR guis keep up that winning tradition.

J. V. SOFTBALL

A new & exciting twist was added to the girl's softball league this year. A Jumor Varsity team replaced the Frosh-Soph team. This rule alloted for a limited number of Jumors to play on the team. Along with making it easier for the team to carpool to games, the older players tried to set a veteren example to the rest of team.

Although the Junior Dawgs were plagued with injuries and untimely departures from the team, the girls managed to keep within the top three competitiors. The success of the Dawgs is given in part to the skilled coaching of Sue Anderon and assistants Stephanie Kirby and Steve Anderson.

When it came right down to that split second decision of what to do, Sue's constant drilling came through in the minds of the players; and the situation usually turned out in favor of the Dawgs. The season consisted of long and hard practices, challenging umpires, rained out games, and most of all smashing victories for the Dawgs. All of the team members agree that along with their own companionship, the season was made a bit brighter with the addiction of player number 1/2, Cory - the coach's baby girl.

No, it wasn't Jaws, it was a San Rafael swimmer. The swimmer made it to the wall with her best time. James McPhail and Susie Dodd, San Rafael's honorable coaches, cheered on.

The swim team was lucky to have two new devoted swim trainers this year-James McPhail coaching the boys, and S usie Dodd, coaching the girls.

The girls team was larger than the boys, the boys were just as successful. Captains, David Walther, Ted Harding, Jessica Taekman, and Erika Masak helped create spirit in the swim team.

The San Rafael High Swim-A-Thon raised $10,000 for needed pool repairs, and went far beyond the imagination of the team. Some students camped out in tents or stayed up 24 hours to show their enthusiasm.

The man with the orange sleeve holding the gun quickly approached the line and said "Ladies and gentlemen....I'll give you two commands - on your mark, set, and then the gun... all right - good luck and stand tall...stand tall."

Adrenalin, anticipation, and fear suddenly but the group of runners. Stop watches gripped and awaited the gun with anticipation. The run went off, "Bang!" and their race began around the 440 yards of the most infinite of foot paths. In 2 hours these races will be over. Night joggers will come out and try to recapture the glory of the dried sweat and pain caused by the trials of the many miles of the San Rafael track team.

Due to an unusal exhibition of determination and dedication during the off-season our teams coached by Ron Newstatt and Bill Granados showed talent and achievement throughout the season. This is where the leaders of the team (P. Mankin, H. Schultz, M Sellars, C Allen, N Heinzel, B LOdge, R. Mills, and K Riley) should be mentioned. They were invaluable to our teams MCAL standing but they weren't the entire team. There were many other athletes who maybe weren't born with as much talent but did have the same will to win (or at least P.R.) as anybody. Those who didn't make it to the N.C.S. motivated those who did. The back-bone of the team was where the true inspirations and dreams were made. The spirit of the individuals came together and made the races and workouts, worth minning for everyone.

This past season was a learning experience for the Centenmal Varsity Girl's Soccer Team. With a new coach, Sandi Panahi and a small number of girls to work with, we had a fun season. Everyone worked hard & even though some people left the team, we had some new members join the team half way through the season. We had a relatively young team with one third of it consisting of freshmen, Sasha Davies, and three sophomores. Elena Worley, Sylla McClellan, and Carmina Crittendin. The 1988 golf season began with a new coach, new young faces, and new enthusiasm. After getting acquainted with one another, the team members looked forward to one thing - having a good time. Led by returning veterans Javier Soto Chavez, Jonas Mentjox, and Brian Wood, the team succeeded in playing quite a few nice rounds. With new additions (and no preservatives) such as Matt Berry & Kirk Wodell there was an interesting mixture of rookies & veterans. Other players included Marc Conn, Rennie Cameron, Dave Evans and Aaron Hill. Since the team got along rather well, not many grey hairs were produced when a putt was missed by an inch or two. Just a few loud yells. But at least we could laugh most of the time and say "Well, that's a peach." When the season began, scores were not perfectly representative of the players efforts. About 90% of the shots were good enough for the Masters but the other shots had a fatal attraction to bodies of water. Everyone had great & bad days in golf just like everyone else. That's how the game works.

Despite the loss of key players at the end of the 1987 season, the tennis team came back strong with a young team. Sammy Ho is the only senior on the team. The rest of the team is comprised mostly of sophomores and jumors with a few freshmen.

During the pre-season matches the team looked as if it was gearing up for a good season. Then with the loss of key player Alex Bolotsky due to injury, the team was badly weakened.

The team started the season off with a surprising upset victory against Novato. Since the team has played quite inconsistently being unable to win the five individual matches necessary for a team win. Although the team's record doesn't appear to be great, the tennis team had many close matches which could have gone either way.

The tennis team is looking forward to a promising season next year, only losing one player. Next year's team will be more experienced and headed by a handful of veterans.

MIKE PI RRI -Second team all league defensive tackle

The 1985 varsity football season was an exciting one for the Bulldog team. We played a scrappy team-oriented brand of football that earned the respect of our opponents. We finished the season with a 6-4 record that included thrilling victorics and dissappointing defeats. Throughout the season, we became a close-knit family of players and coaches. Through the year we played one-hundred percent effort pride, determination and for this we held our heads high!

Surprising Season

This year, our J.V football team had more than its share of problems during the 1985 season, but it was apparent that we came together as a team in the end. We won our last two games with authority and finished the season with a league record of 4-3. It was an admirable job by Coach Ross Bracken, who throughout most of the season was without aid during practice. On game days, he was assisted by Coaches A.J. Wilson and Ron Patrick

Before the season started, the mutual feeling of the team was that we had the talent to "sweep' the league. Conflicting attitudes and too many individual players prevented us from achieving our goal. However, we did learn the importance of playing together as a team, and we will bounce back to championship caliber football next year

Freshman Go 5-2

The freshman football team finished second place in the MCAL this year with a 5-2 record lason Biomquist, one of the two captains said. We played well and it was an action packed season. He also said, "The high point of the season was our victory over the Marin Catholic Wildcats." The Bulldogs were really up for that game and they played error free footbal.

The freshman team was led by Quarterback Roger Sweeny, who was a great asset to the team. He was a good scrambler and had the strength to break tackles. The two other leaders of the team were the Captains, Jason Biomquist and Joev Catti. They brought the team's morale up and inspired the team to really want to play toorbal.

Lady Bulldogs Dare to be Different

The Lady Bulldogs had a new look this year. Wild flower shorts made the Bulldogs stand out above the rest. This unique look inspired everyone on the team. Mixed feelings came from the crowd and from players and coaches of the other teams, but that didn't stop the Bulldogettes.

Although the team was young, they had a lot of experience. A majority of the players had played the previous nine months in USVBA. With only five returning seniors and two returning juniors from last year's team, the happy Bulldogs managed to make it to the MCAL playoffs.

The night of the playoffs was also the night that the MCAL All-League players were announced. The Lady Buildogs had five players that were honored. Making first team were players Julie Westholder and Krista Wuertz; Second-team players were Tracy Tipping and honorable mention was Mia Bernt and Fontaine Segerquist. The team captain, Julie Westholder, said "I think the team will dominate MCAL next year. I wish them the best of luck. They are young, but very experienced."

The Lady Buildogs had an MCAL record of 9-5. Their overall record was 14-8. They took fourth place in MCAL

J.V. SPIKES INTO ACTION

The season started out with close wins and losses but the players were enthusiastic. The J V Volleyball team had many returning and experienced players along with many new and rising players. Returning from last year were Maria Siatos, Rosie Tuatagaloa, Vicki Kelpsh, Lisa Bandettini, Jenny Peacock, Elise Youmans, and Sara Anderson. With these players and coach Bob Hess, the team was able to put together a skulful lineup. The first year players quickly learned the needed skills of volleyball and performed them well Kerry Barthel, Paula March, and Young Won Kang, who were surprising newcomers, showed their quick skill and ability to play the game

With the leading first string players blocking shots and spiking effectively, the team was a challenge to any competitor. They showed their determination by fighting for every point until the game came to its conclusion. Just by watching them, they proved to be a very coordinated team

Though they didn't finish the season with a perfect record, the players were pleased with their performances

'This year's Varsity Water Polo Team, led by Captain Christian Buemann, performed much better than was expected. Finishing with a 5-7 record, the team placed fourth in the MCALs, and went on to the North Coast Finals. The underclassmen were a strong part of the starting team as were the seniors. The underclassmen will be the backbone of the team in years to come. The Frosh-Soph team did very well and came in second place with a record of 10-2."

This year the San Rafael Varsity Soccer team had to overcome many obstacles. Although the Bulldogs didn't finish in the top four, and their record wasn't statistically impressive, they proved that they could compete with any team in the league Injuries plagued the Bulldogs all season with the loss of several key players at different times Varsity soccer coach. Peter Green states, 'Next year we have the merging of the very talented sophomores and juniors, and I'm convinced that San Rafael soccer in the very near future is going to become a rea, force. VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Bulldog's Varsity Basketball Team enjoyed one of the most successful season in its history. Led by unanimous First-team All-League pick, Jon Baker the team finished the campaign with a 21-6 mark. The 21 victories are of note because this year's ballclub was the first San Rafael team to win 20 games or more.

Along side Baker, who ended the year as the eague's second-leading scorer, the Bulldogs also placed three other players on the all-league team. Junior guard Bill Archer, who was second in the league in free throw shooting and second on the team in scoring, and senior point guard Bob. Archer were named to the Second Team, while power forward Ken Shepherd, a valuable inside player for the Bulldogs, received Honerable Mention.

But the Bulldogs talent didn't stop there, as they had the deepest and most talented bench in the MCAL. Without this bench strength, the Bulldogs obviosly wouldn't have had a successful season the help at guard came from senior John Mannion, senior Don Dugdale, junior Drew Mider and sophomore Bob Aldridge, while up front the depth was provided by seniors Robert Read. Wes Sitchler, Mark Lakeman and the young Andrew. Fido 'Fedeli, a junior who was struck down late in the season by a tragic arm njury. Crowd favorite Pedro ripol, a transfer student from Spain, provided physiological help through. MFNTALIZING

The Bulldogs, who finished second in the league with an 11-3 record did many things that San Rafael teams had not done in a while First of all they won their first pre-season tournament on 20 years (the Antioch Tournament). We also beat Drake! Halting the Pirate's home winning streak after nine vaers. Out of nine years, San Rafael had only beaten Drake once until this year Though the year did end on a down note, the untorgettable play-off loss to Tam, the Buildog's hard work and success will not be forgotten soon. The hard work and smarts of Coach Bret Tovani will always bring good results. Without his influence the team would probably not have enjoyed the success it did

M.C.A.L. CHAMPS

The J V. boys' basketball team completed the season with a fantastic 11-3 record to take the M C.A.L. championship. Everyone on the team contributed to the team's success. There were many different personalities on the team ranging from Angus McClure's over-aggressive play to Jason "Nugget" Good's inspirational attitude

Coach Dan Dixon was a real motivating factor to help reach championship goals. The high point of the season was defeating Drake at their own gym to clinch the championship.

The freshmen baskerbal rean had a successfultear with many new accomplishments. They ended the lear with an 11-3 record and took second in the MCAI. The highpoint of the year was the victory over San Marin when they won by 16 points. Jason Blumquist and Roger Sweeney both set records in scoring. Roger Sweeney had a total of 150 points and Jason Blumquist had a total of 150 points. The conches this year were Bud Smith and Clarence Dugdale. They offered the team, support and were great influences on the team's successful season.

The Lady Bulldogs had a late start this season with only five pre-season games. Other teams went into the season with approximately twelve games. A change of coaching took place which set the Bulldogs behind. Mike Diaz, a varsity coach veteran, took over the coaching job for the team. This was the first time that Diaz coached a girls team. We had a slow start, but towards the end of the season I saw a lot of improvement, 'said Diaz

The Lady Bulldogs were also a young team. The team consisted of only two seniors, eight jumors and two sophomores. Returning players were Charene Franklin, Julie Westholder, Ellie Baldwin, Debbie LaFranchi and Carolina Katz. San Rafael had two second team all league players this season, Charene Franklin and Debbie La Franchi

Next year's team looks very promising, with only two players leaving. The team will have the talent and the experience of playing well together. There will be a good chance for a playoff spot for the Lady Bulldogs, next season. Good Luck?

The freshmen girls basketball teams preseason games were rather slow, but fortunately that only made us more competitive and much more aggressive during the actual season

The team worked hard and put a lot of effort and time into their games. The other teams started taking us more seriously. During mid-season we began to really stir up some action giving us a total of 5 game wins. Head coach Brace McFhael, and assistant Coach John Campeaw gave us a lot of support which added to the overall performance of our team.

Paula March, Susy Wiser, Rachael Villaseñor and the other 14 members will be returning next year. Tracy Fitt, a starting linebacker, said 'We had fun playing as well as learning; we learned to play as a team and not just for ourselves!

After our first game the San Rafael JV Gits Baskethall team knew they were in for a very long season. We made it through our 14 games with quite a record. Once we even, miraculously made it to overtime!! We all remember that exciting game, with all those shouts from the bench like! No it's the other basket!!! and. Get in their FACE!! We had a great season!

Coach Mals, that wonderful man, made fantastic last seek not strategies and helped us to keep our tamous team spirit" up. To prove my point I must add that after all, we only lost half our games in our gym—the other half we lost away. Much thanks to Coach Mills!"

The San Rafae, wrestling team finished the season at 4-1, losing only to San Marin by a close margin Joe Paz, Tony Buoncristiani, Alex Quezada, Dave Gordon, Louis Nave, Tak Horiuchi all made it to the North Coast Section. Tak Horiuchi and Dave Gordon both took MCAL Championships

The discipline and technique of head coach Gary LaPore, and assistant coach, Jeff Baldwin, gave the team an extra edge. The stat girls not only kept stats, but they also kept the wrestlers on their toes

Wrestling has taken a dramatic turnaround from mediocre to a top contender in the MCAL. Next year's team has a promising future with talents such as: Tak Honuchi, Joe Ciatti, Mike Delgado. Greg Burgess, Adam Hurley, Luis "Master of Disaster' Quezada. Carlos "The King of Sting Escobedo, Rafael "The Sak" Sakellariou, Leonard Super Soph' Howard, and Lone Senior Bobby 'BC" Contini

A quote that should be running through the mind of a wrestier is: 'You must have the hear, the mind, and the guts to be a S.R. wrestler. For months these men would go through harsh practice and long matches. You must respect your opponent, but you mustn't fear them.' say Mike Fennel.

Academics

The faculty members and students who appear in the following pages were truly the ones to watch. They helped us learn and excel in many different ways

Those who deserve the most credit are the administrators, counselors, teachers, aides, secretaries, clerks, and janitors. Dr Collins, Mr Rideout and Mr Riesen kept academia under control. Aides helped teachers and students. Secretaries and clerks kept the school organized and located students to give them the lunches left at home. Teachers benefitted our lives by teaching us important skills and how to learn, think and grow. Our janitors deserved credit for picking up after irresponsible litterers and keeping the campus spotless.

With the aid of all these special people, a new breed of students was produced. These students were the conquerers of academics. They excelled in inter- and outer- school activities. CSF members showed their skills in academics through outstanding grades and totoring other students. Both music students and academic decathalon members spent much of their time afterschool studying, practicing, and mastering. One special section in this division recognizes those students who were spectacular.

TEACHERS ARE REALLY HUMAN

MYTH. Teachers were never teenagers.
They don't eat
They never leave the campus.
All they do on weekends is correct papers
They have no feelings

FACT. None of the above is true about teachers

As one may believe any of the above myths, it must finally be exposed that teachers really are humans. One may think that behind the pair of glasses or inside the pair of shoes that calls role from the front of the room is a machine. This machine' may give bad grades, send students to the office, or just hand out homework at an unconquering rate. Well, sorry to spoil any hypothesis, that machine-like mass is really a human

This human really does eat, goes to the restroom, and even has a family and friends? Surprised? Although some teachers seem formal strict and unemotional while others are more open, laugh, and are more relaxed, they are all capable of having a good time. No matter what personality they wear" at school, teachers have various ways of enjoying life like other humas do. They may go bike riding, run or jog, go out to a movie or dinner, meet a fellow teacher at a football or basketball game, or spend time with their family

It has been discovered that reachers are just as human as everyone else. They even have feelings. Students may be schocked in disbelief about this study it is proven that teachers take their jobs seriously and therefore act just like any other working person at another job. As in any career, some are more serious than others and each teacher has his or her own way of working Behind what you may think are the glowing red eyes, the fire-breathing nostrils, and the lips that always seem to produce the words "1000 pages due tomorrow' is really a caring person with real emotions. Students must realize that teachers go grocery shopping, laugh at Eddie Murphy jokes, cry at sad movies, or love someone, like a husband, or something like ice cream Out of all the teachers tested in this nation wide study, 100% were proven to be constructed of living human flesh and have emotions. (This statistic includes the 00012% error factor involved) Students should respect their teachers' seriousness and remember that when some teachers were teenagers, they have done ever crazier things than students do

WHEN IN DOUBT, ANSWER "d" ...

Before the six competitors, one alternate, and coach assembled in the Novato High School cafeteria on the morning of Saturday, November 16, 1985, much preparation, research, and time had been involved. Seniors Andreas Schultz and Ian Stoba (team captain) represented the Honors party Chris Hanzlik and Dascha Inciarre were the Scholastic delegates, Shana Bagles and John Mertz were the representatives for the varsity team, and junior Joel Commings as alternative for varsity. They studied tests from last years decathalon, researched for hours, wrote and memorized speeches on this year's topic of immigration, read and discussed Alan Paton's moving novel CRY THE BELOVED COUNTRY and reviewed text books and magazines to aid the further understanding of the areas on which they were to be tested. After a quick history lesson on world geography and WW I through WW II with Mr. Byer, on logy review with Mrs. Stevens, chemistry and physics with Mr. Stevens and many late night cram sessions, the decath etes were seemingly ready to compete in the

1985 Marin County Academic Decathalon

A medley of "good lucks" echoed throughout the halls as nicely-dressed competitors from Marin Catholic North Bay Secondary, Novato, Redwood, San Marin, Drake, Terra Linda, and San Ratael proceeded to their designated testing rooms clutching their Decathalon folders. The participants' pencils and pen scribbled and erased nervously as they were completing their first of ten tests. They were given forty minutes to successfully write a thousand point essay on three topic quotes on immigration, Then throughout the next six hours tests of academic strength, designed not to be finished, on mathematics, science, social studies, economics, language and Interature, and fine arts were given and speeches and interviews were performed

Participants and friends gathered in the gym to complete the 1985 USAD Super Quiz, composed of questions about immigration history and laws. As the minutes ticked by, Redwood developed a substantial lead with Marin Catholic in second, and Terra Linda and San Rafael field for third. Al. of a sudden, San Rafael began scoring fives. San Rafael and Redwood's scores were double checked. It was a 41 to 41 tie! Chris Hanzlik and a Redwood competitor battled it out with pencils and brains to answer the five point "sudden death" question. An inch of worry ran through San Rafael's minds, Chris had only scored two out of ten points during the event, but encouraging cheers, a bit of luck, and a few smart brain cells triggered him to choose the answer to What was the purpose of the Contract Labor.

Law of 1864?" with 'd. to pay an immigrant passage to the U.S. for a contract wage". The tension increased as the final moment arrived, San Rafael-correct, Redwood-incorrect Both Coach Stevens and Joel made Olympic-record breaking leaps from the stands and the San Rafael team, as well as a few new friends, mobbed Chris with congratulatory bugs and screams of Joy

Clubs+ Organizations

As the year progressed students found themselves reaching into their pockets to support all sorts of clubs and organizations. They helped the Quebec Club and Close-Up make their dreams of visiting Quebec and Washington, D.C. come true Of course other clubs always seemed to have some master ploy up their sleeves. The Computer Club tricked us into buying their lollipops which fizzed in the middle. Their sale turned out to be successful. The Ra Ravas made a gracious effort to heap the food bank during Christmas vacation, and the Ski Club planned a skiing adventure. There was also a new organization called S.A.D.D. (Students Against Drunk Driving) who sent out a message to all students not to Drink and Drive

Let's not forget the media! KSRH, the radio station, brought music over the aurwaves. The Red & White newspaper updated the students on what was happening at school. And, of course, the Searchlight which brings this yearbook to you!

An important lesson that came out of joining a club was that friendships were made and people were brought closer together and were able to work together as a team. Clubs and Organizations gave the students an opportunity to involve their time, effort, energy, and themselves in an activity which they could enjoy and feel a part of a team.

The Quebec Experience

For the sorth year, the Quebec Club offered S.R.H.S. students a chance to participate in a meaningful, cultural exchange. Twenty-five of our students spent twelve days in a small town in the Canadian Province of Quebec. This gave the students a chance to experience a different language and a different culture. This exchange was much more than a tourist trip or a guided tour through parts of Canada, it was a unique experience.

To raise the needed funds, the students took part in a number of fundraising activities. A couple of these included washing cars and taking inventory at Macy's.

Yes, it was work but in spite of it all, and because of it all we loved it. Quebec was a great opportunity but better vet it was a very educational experience for everyone. We would like to give a special thanks to Mme Goff Tuttle for putting in all the time she did.

The Chess Club of 1985-1986 consisted of seven members headed by Mr. Belden. The club mer weekly meetings were held in LA 214 to discuss and expand the horizons in the world of Chess. The game of chess is an old one originating during the medieval times. The interest in the game has survived and grown through the centuries. Since the game is mostly an intellectual one and not requiring much money, no fundraisers were needed or held. The members supplied what was needed, as far as playing pieces and boards were concerned. This seemed to be the only prerequisite for membership besides an interest in the old and ever asting game of chess.

THE DRAMA CLUB

The performing arts are an important part of the culture of our world and of our school. The Drama Club serves to support our school's dramatic and musical productions as well as to increase the awareness, among the student body, of the performing arts and their great benefits. In order to accomplish these things and to attend local productions of plays and musicals, ourselves, the Drama Club has found it necessary to raise funds. This year we sold both pocket calendars that we had printed with a San Rafael High School Bulldog's emblem and singing telegrams at the Holiday Faire. AN EDITOR'S DREAM

When the sixth period class first congregated on that hot day in September, I knew right away that we were going to turn out one terrific yearbook. Little did I know that my assumption was accurate. Those yearbookers took to those layouts, like ants to a picnic Soon terms such as; copy, pica, cropping, column width, and white space all seemed to blend into their everyday jargon. It was simply beautiful. An Editor's dream

Then suddenly I woke up and had to come to grips with facing reality. Although I never held a machine gun to any of the staff's heads during a deadline . . . I seriously could have Then again, I wouldn't want to confuse them, they probably wouldn't know which deadline I was referring to. For that matter neither would I. It always seemed as if we had an ongoing deadline, and there was no end in sight. This year our theme was 'The Ones To Watch' and I think you will understand why as you turn the pages of the 1986 Searchlight

We changed the course of yearbook history!
We broke traditions, explored new fields, followed patterns from the past, threw it all together and Voilá...a quality book appeared

Some of the changes that occured you might have already noticed. For one the book is bigger in size and there are fewer number of pages. Where did those pages go? In the supplement. Time unravels many surprises and one is that we discovered a supplement from as far back as 1966. As you turn the pages you might have stumbled over the Table of Contents, one which has not been in the yearbook for quite a while

When we sent in our color section (Theme and Semors) late, of course, we were surprised to hear that the yearbook company. Herff Jones was so impressed with those first pages that they wanted to print 50 extra books as example books around the country. This made us want to live up to that reputation and make the rest as good as those first few pages. In the Senior Section we put quotes under the pictures and in each section we wanted to add something special. We used the computer program, a system of which only an elite 5% nationally use This program helped tremendously

I would like to thank the following for their outstanding work this year. These people put in a tremendous amount of overtime and they deserve a free yearbook and more credit than I could ever give them.

SHANA BAGLEY To someone who entered the class with no knowledge of the makings of a yearbook Considering with what you had to work with, I give you a standing ovation CHRIS BATTLE. Well "Mr. Business Manager", even though you always came in late from going out to get something to eat, you did a mahvalous job, dahling JIM GILLEPSIE. Our happen n yearbook representative, Thank you for giving us support throughout the year

DAVE MAGLIOCCO: You can call this book the 'Dave Magliocco Yearbook". After all you filled all our white space with your artwork' Too bad we don't get free yearbooks. The cover looks great! Thanks for all your hard work and having to listen to everyones ideas AMY MCGRATH. Not too bad for a beginner. Thanks for helping me in times of trouble and for all the overtime you put in ANASTASIA MEDRANO: Who went was beyond the call of duty. What would I have done without your ability to fill in copy blocks! Thank you for staying with me and the others on those late nights during deadlines MR MILLS "Well It looks like it's coming together." We did it! Thank you for helping me in times of decisions and handling deadlines. Best of luck next year MICHAEL RIETH: Our very own computer whiz. What would we have done with out your expertise? Oh, about those mistakes that YOU made and I found, well I won't be there next year to catch them. Thank you, you made life a lot easier this year . . . well most of the time FONTAINE SEGERQUIST The only person I know who takes an interest in computer layouts! I don't like them, remember? Good luck next year - Ha Ha PHOTOGRAPHERS To Victor Escobedo

Dave Gudice, and Ed Rudolph "We need pictures" must be imprinted in your heads by now Well, even though we hasseled you with all our problems, you always came through Thank you

To the rest of the staff. I would thank everyone personally, but obviously I can't. I enjoyed working with you, even though I got tired of hearing my name. It has been fun, but lets not do it again unless it's under different circumstances. To all of you. You all sow a very promising future in the world of yearbook making a good luck to those of you who plan to stay on next year.

This year we set goals to make this year's yearbook the best, and although we had out ups and downs, we made it. It has been an experience. I have one more thing to say, and then I'll go . . . I never want to live through another deadline AGAIN?

Red & White

Once again, The Red & White staff held their radition of excellence by informing and enteraining the students of San Rafael High School

This year, the staff printed seven issues which were funded by advertisers, the administration and the A.S.B. The students ran the newspaper in every aspect. They wrote the articles, did all the photography, assembled the paper and distributed them

Fony Markwick, Feature Editor, stunned the world of journalism with his clever and someomes controversial column. News Editor, Dave Follen, winner of the coveted silver Sow Award, discovered new dimensions in the reporting of news. Jenny Hudgins, Editorial Editor, began her illustrious career as a Red & White editor this year. Jeff Rosenberg and Eric Reed, the infamous Focus Editors both used their keen insight on life to bring you a provocative look at just about everything. Brian Wilbur, Sports Editor used his swimming skills to survive in the rough world of sports journalism. And Chr.'s Hanzik the Photography Editor, can finally be called the Slim Whitman of photography. Over all it was a great year

Bll Benck, General Manager

Well here we are at the end of another yearbook. Somehow we managed to finish this incredible project of putting a yearbook together. For seven months we sorted through endless pictures and went to almost every business in town to find ads. When total frustration and senioritis set in (a deadly combination) we resorted to the class commonly known around here as Sun Tanning 1-2

Robin, the infamous editor, would complain constantly, but this yearbook would have never gotten out on time if it wasn't for her hard work and dedication. George Mills would get all excited and get into these little work kicks, especially on the final deadline. Then the big man himself would pay us a visit and for one hour or so would take on the whole yearbook himself. We're talking about the one and only Jim Gillespie.

There are some other people who deserve credit also: Lara Pack Kristine Wingenbach, and Christine Pappas. Without these three helping me with ads, I would have been up a creek. It's amazing how easy old men will buy an ad when persuaded by three beautiful girls Other thanks go to Sta Medrano, Amy McGrath, Charene Franklin Victor Escobedo, Mia Bernt, Ellie Baldwin, Julie Westholder, Erika Masak, and the computer man himself Mike (the wannabe genius) Reith. And finally the rest of the Yearbook staff. Thanks
